We at Avon Old Farms are experts in educating boys.

By leveraging relational learning, we bring material to life in a student's mind while challenging each individual to persevere in the pursuit of self-discovery. Our traditionally structured and well-balanced environment refines character traits young men need to become successful throughout their entire life. Avon students' dreams may change, but what doesn't is the unique brotherhood that values integrity, wisdom, justice, inclusion, service, and truth. On the field, in the classroom, and in life, Avon inspires excellence.

Nestled among Cotswold-inspired architecture on 860 acres in the Farmington Valley, Avon Old Farms is conveniently located just two hours from New York and Boston.
