SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Applied Math, Science, and Engineering (AMSE) Institute - The AMSE Institute is an innovative program for VCS students who have a particular interest or strength in math, science, engineering or technology. The program is ideal for students who want to be trained through the highest courses in these subjects and work closely with local business engineers and scientists. These students have opportunities to do research on university-level projects, enter elite math and science competitions and more. vcs.net/k-12-programs

Business & Entrepreneurship Initiative - The BEI Program gives students access to exceptional resources and training to develop an entrepreneurial mindset. School courses teach core business concepts and elite after-school programs provide the opportunity to create, develop, and launch a business. vcs.net/k-12-programs

Conservatory of the Arts - The Conservatory of the Arts is an outstanding fine arts program that is unique to Valley Christian Schools. There are opportunities to take music, theatre, dance, media, or visual arts classes. Students may also take private lessons after school, give recitals and build a portfolio for college. A number of international students at VCS are part of the Conservatory of the Arts program. vcs.net/k-12-programs

Athletics - VCS students compete at the highest level of athletics in Santa Clara County. VCHS has 59 competitive teams in 25 different sports. VCJH offers balanced programs across 22 teams competing in 11 different sports. The Human Performance Center (HPC) provides year-round access to sports-specific training aimed to maximize strength, speed, and power for all student-athletes.
