

The Learning Center Program

The Learning Center Program (LCP) at Stoneleigh-Burnham School is uniquely positioned to support aspirational students with a diverse range of learning styles. As with everything we do, our Learning Center Program is rooted in Stoneleigh-Burnham's deep belief in supporting an inclusive community.

"I researched schools that could accommodate our daughter's unique interests... SBS figured out how to meet our daughter where she was and they have been with her every step of the way."

THE POWER OF A STONELEIGH-BURNHAM SCHOOL EDUCATION

Since 1869, we have been working with students to prepare them for college and beyond.

- »» Students partner with a dedicated Learning Center Program faculty member to help students develop better academic skills, habits, and learn to advocate for themselves.
- »» Students meet 1-on-1 or in small groups (3-4 students) based on their profile. This personalized approach allows the School to respond to gains or provide additional support when needed. At Stoneleigh-Burnham, we don't take a one program fits all approach.
- »» A shared responsibility allows for collaboration among faculty and coaches for student accomplishments in and out of the classroom resulting in better college placement.

STONELEIGH-BURNHAM'S LEARNING CENTER PROGRAM WORKS WITH BRIGHT STUDENTS WHO:

- are challenged by mild to modest executive functioning and/or ADHD
- have lower processing or working memory profiles
- want to build their organizational skills and motivation
- aim to overcome a weakness in a particular academic skill or subject area
- overcome test or classroom anxiety

...AND, MOST IMPORTANTLY, are motivated to take advantage of the support, resources, and strategies to achieve real success.

"The support I receive at Stoneleigh-Burnham has taught me time management skills and helped me get ready for college."

– SBS Senior

THE POWER OF INDIVIDUALIZED SUPPORT

For over 150 years, we have known that each student learns differently, and we tailor our approach to meet their individual needs. We are committed to providing an educational experience that goes beyond the classroom, which is essential for student success.
